

People's Right To Know Is Threatened

A proposed policy for the city of Placentia, that could be used as a gag order to prevent information from reaching the public, was scheduled for consideration Tuesday night by the Placentia City Council.

The order closely follows the rescinding of a City Hall practice that put a price tag of $1 a page on copies made of any public documents or other materials sought by individuals.

The $1 a page charge was voted down to ten cents a copy by city council in June. The procedure followed an amendment of the law by the legislature in Sacramento, making it mandatory that such a copying charge not be more than ten cents a page. The city had been in violation of this amendment since January, 1976.

A newly proposed policy could make it possible for the press or an individual to be charged an hourly rate of $10 for "research". The policy would be controlled by heads of departments from whom the information is sought.

Applicants for information could appeal to City Administrator Edwin Powell, thus giving him the final say so on how the policy would be administered.

The proposed document leaves no recourse to any preprescribed limitations nor to any elected official. The practice apparently would be controlled by paid staff members who are not subject to the public's right to recall or turn down at election time.

The document also follows inquiries made by The Placentia Courier as to individuals employed by the city of Placentia their classifications and their wages. Also requested was information as to the number of vehicles owned by taxpayers and in possession of the city.

Both items fall in the category of the public's right to know. The Courier was later advised to put the request in writing. The newspaper has been told that doing its own research is not feasible because "confidential information" is included with the items sought on employees and wages.

The policy proposed for perusal by the city council Tuesday night outlines that "this is not intended to apply to routine requests for information, copies of documents or reports which are readily available." (No specific categories named).

Requests for such staff research will be administered in the following manner:

1. All requests for research or staff time to compile or prepare reports shall be in writing and, specify, as fully as possible, the nature of the request. This written request is to be submitted to the director of the department.

2. The department head will provide an estimate of when the request can be filled.

3. If the request requires extraordinary staff research or compilation of materials not readily available, the department head will advise the individual requesting the research of the amount of estimated staff time involved and the projected cost based upon an hourly rate of $10.

4. Research of an extraordinary nature shall be scheduled so as not to interfere with normal responsibilities and work assignments. Reimbursed overtime may be authorized for this purpose.

5. The decision of a department head may be appealed to the city administrator.

No allowance is included in the proposal making it mandatory that the press be given free and immediate access to all "nonconfidential" information, thereby assuring one of the public's main accesses to the working of its government.

Hearing Set On Vehicle Ordinance

A city ordinance that would make it illegal for a Placentia homeowner to park his car in his driveway for more than 72 hours at a time, will be open for public discussion at a special meeting of the Placentia Planning Commission.

The session is scheduled for 7:30 p.m., Thursday, September 23 in city council chambers at City Hall.

Also included in the proposed ordinance are current restrictions of parking accommodations for residents' campers, recreational vehicles, boats and other vehicular possessions.

Restrictions on parking in most instances apply to private driveways as well as the street.

Eva Carter Has Heart Attack

Mrs. Eva (Curtis) Carter, who organized and sponsored a return visit of Placentia youngsters to Placentia, Italy, in June of this year, has suffered a heart attack and is recuperating at St. Jude Hospital in Fullerton.

Mrs. Carter had been recuperating from exhaustion following the strenuous Italian junket for which she had assumed much of the responsibility for plans and communications. She had been improving, however, a relative reports until the heart attack occurred a week ago.

The family spokesman said that Mrs. Carter has been moved from intensive care into a rehabilitation room and is expected to be home in ten days or so.

The Carters have three boys and are active at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Placentia and the school there.

Church School Gathers Protests

A difference of opinion as to whether a Montessori School should be allowed to use the Sunday School buildings at the Redeemer Lutheran Church at 451 West Madison Avenue, resulted Tuesday in the city's planning commissioners voting to extend the hearing on the matter.

Several neighbors of the church voiced strong protests to the suggested use.

Nearby residents also stated that there had been agreement 15 years ago between the church and homeowners that a school would not be permitted on the grounds. The area is surrounded by houses, some of which face the church property. [Continued on page 2]

Don't Touch For 100 Years!

BY BETTY MEAD

In a convivial atmosphere, a roomful of Orange County mayors and other illustrious VIPs, gathered together Thursday to exchange pleasantries, dedicate a brand new ten-story hotel and bury a few time capsules.

The time capsules, enveloping a variety of objects from city budgets to keys to the city and a one cent piece will be unearthed in 100 years.

Unearthed is not quite the proper term. Devaulted is a little closer. A last minute change in plans moved the final time capsule ceremony from a hole in the ground to a vault in the United California Bank on McArthur Boulevard in Newport Beach, California's unpredictable, earthquake-nervous terra firma was given as the reason.

Attending the ceremony was nattily dressed Placentia Mayor George De Jesus with his city's Bicentennial capsule in hand. Contained in Placentia's American Flag decorated capsule are a copy of the current budget, the dedication booklet from the December 14, 1974 dedication of the city's new Civic Center.

Other items include a Bicentennial Medal; a Parks and Recreation brochure; a program from the dedication of the Veterans Memorial Fountain given to the city by the late Edward Backs and Mrs. Angeline Kraemer Backs and an All American City button.

Also included were two front pages of Placentia Couriers. Those in the headlines of the Courier on June 23 and June 30, 1976 (the carrying the top sheets of all Orange County newspapers.

A third Placentia Courier front page, September 15, 1976 was placed in a separate capsule

Yorba Linda School Annexation Dead?

The possibility of consolidating the Yorba Linda Elementary School District with the Placentia Unified School District, under discussion for several months, seems at last to be dead.

Part of the problem, YLSD board members admitted at their meeting Thursday night, was their own lack of zeal in pursuing the proposition.

"It's your initiative," PUSD board member John Balducci told the board. "We're there to respond, but we don't hear anything."

"We've had only three letters in two years. If you want something, you've got to work for it."

Another part of the problem is that, although annexation would entail no cost to YLSD, such would not be the case for PUSD and the Fullerton Union High School District. Yet, even that might not pose an insurmountable barrier.

"We're going to have to do the same job, whether we're three districts or one," said Balducci. "It'll cost the same amount either way, give or take a few administrators."

A further obstacle was posed by public indifference.

"I find no great interest out there in that community for annexation," said Board President Paul R. Armstrong, "although I personally feel it's the best thing for Yorba Linda and for Placentia."

Board Clerk Shirley Guardia agreed. "Without some show of interest on the part of the public," she said, "I just don't have the incentive to work for it."

Finally the board voted to send the other districts a letter saying that unless somebody had a new idea, YLSD would no longer be interested in annexation.

"A waste of time," Balducci offered. "If you've got an idea, let's hear it. But we don't have anything new."

Diamond Charges Now Misdemeanors

Felony charges of false evidence, filed against former Placentia Police Officer John Diamond, were dismissed Thursday morning in North Orange County Municipal Court.

The charges, involving incidents related to Diamond's work on the police force here, have been reduced to misdemeanors.

Oddly enough, the change in seriousness of the charges filed through the Orange County District Attorney's office were not mentioned at the Placentia Personnel Appeals Board hearing involving former Sgt. Eugene Cason, which concluded Thursday night.

Sgt. Cason's fortunes became involved with Diamond's when it was alleged that Cason, who was Diamond's superior, failed to report Diamond's infractions to Lt. Walter Pichon who ranks above Cason.

The Diamond charges all involved another Placentia police officer, Steven Van Etten, who allegedly divulged the three incidents originally. Van Etten also reported the final incident to Lt. Pichon.

Involved in the charges were a traffic accident at the corner of Seville Street and Lawn Avenue where Diamond allegedly reported there were skid marks and Van Etten [Continued on page 2]

More Families To Live By Tracks?

Two different efforts to house more Placentia families by the busy Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad tracks entered government machinery last Tuesday with a first look at the plans by the city's planning commissioners.

One five acre piece is adjacent to the railroad and another lies between the railroad and the 57 Freeway.

One of the developments is planning to use the same noise attenuation engineering firm employed by S and S Construction (Shapell) for expensive homes along the railroad tracts south of Chapman Avenue and east of City Hall. Homeowners there have proclaimed loudly that their homes are unliveable.

The first five acre tract is the property of Mrs. Angeline Kraemer Backs and lies north of the tracks and the Bradford Brothers Packing House between Angelina Drive and Alta Street. Zoning on this piece was changed by planning commissioners Tuesday in a split vote with chairman Lee Van Gorden and Commissioner Chester Sowinski dissenting.

The zoning granted was R-3

Cason Decision Due Wednesday

Four nights of prolonged testimony over a two week period, concluded Thursday with an unplayed tape recording, a variety of previously undisclosed incidents and the fate of a veteran Placentia police sergeant still in limbo.

A decision in the status of Placentia Police Sergeant Eugene Cason will be advised Wednesday, September 22. At that time the city's Personnel Appeals Board will publicly announce its decision into Cason's recent demotion and its recommendation to City Administrator Edwin Powell. The session is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

The quasi-courtroom drama has played to large attendances of interested Placentia citizens, many of whom were in attendance apparently in support of Cason, who has become well known in the community during his 17-years of service. Members of the police department also have accounted for the swelling of the numbers.

Summations by Cason's attorney Hugh Swanson and city Police Chief

Norman Traub, taking over for City Attorney Charles Post III, failed to bind up a number of loose ends brought forth in the testimony.

Traub in his testimony given before the board stated: "I advised Mr. Cason that I have a tape recording that might be detrimental to him and cause him some embarrassment. At the appropriate time I would destroy that tape or erase it in the presence of Sgt. Cason if I am to leave the city at a particular time my successor would not have access to that tape nor would other people have access to that tape therefore, to assure him that the tape recording would be destroyed in his presence."

Attorney Swanson in cross-examination of Traub queried: "And what did you consider to be the appropriate time?" "I'm not sure when the appropriate time would be," Traub answered.

Traub continued: "I asked Mr. Cason on a previous hearing 'Did you not attempt to smear my reputation and would you expect me to do anything less than what you did?' and he (Cason) said 'no'."

Swanson: "You consider this tape to be a hammer so to speak? Is that correct?" Traub: "That is not correct."

Traub continued: "The appropriate time to destroy the tape is after the proceedings are over." Swanson: "You may intend to use it sometime after the hearing, is that correct?" Traub: "I hadn't thought of that."

Swanson: "You were thinking of the possibility of another chief sometime in the distant future coming in contact with it?"

Traub: "I indicated too that I would destroy that tape in his (Cason's) presence so no one else would get the contents of that tape."

Contents of the tape were not revealed during the hearing. However, references were made to the number of personal phone calls received by Sgt. Cason at work and the fact that the phone calls from several telephones are recorded on the police ten-track tape device.

The intensity of the city's side of the proceedings had become evident in the number of incidents recalled in testimony, the manner of presentation and the tone of Traub's summation.

Brought up and not totally clarified during Wednesday and Thursday nights proceedings were references to a bank robbery and a rape.

Accusations were made by Police Lt. Walter Pichon that Sgt. Cason had allegedly received "bank statements and cancelled checks" which might have been pertinent to a bank robbery two days before of the United California Bank at Rose Drive and Yorba Linda Boulevard, Placentia.

Pichon testified that Cason "threw them away." However, no proof was produced that the materials existed and teenagers who had reportedly brought them to the police station were not called on to testify.

A WELL-ATTENDED HEARING into the future and fortunes of 17-year-veteran Police Sgt. Eugene Cason concluded last Thursday night with an opinion to be handed down Wednesday night, September 22 by the city's Personnel Appeals Board. On the stand testifying is Police Chief Norman Traub. On the roster are members of the personnel appeals board Wally Carl, chairman Art Winney and Leonni Hoopaw. With his back to the camera is the city's Personnel Director Lee Sale.

SERGEANT EUGENE CASON has become the subject of much effort and controversy in his reduction by the Placentia Police Department after 17 years of service, to a patrolman. Hearings on the propriety of his demotion

Architect Eyed For $¼ Million City Yard

Architects and engineers under consideration to develop a city Corporation Yard, by a golf course and in close proximity to $80,000 to $100,000 homes, were narrowed to seven last Tuesday in a presentation to the Placentia City Council.

The yard will be built on the extension of Chapman Avenue between the Civic Center and Orangethorpe Avenue. Surrounding are tracts of homes now being built by S and S Construction Company (Shapell) of Beverly Hills.

Architects still under consideration include Wendell Mounce and Associates (architects for the Civic Center); Grillias, Pirc, Rosier and Alves; Kann, Kappe, Lotery and Boccato and Lee Wilcox and Associates, added at the request of Mayor George DeJesus. Wilcox had not been included in the original notices sent out.

Engineers include Millet-Kind and Associates; L.P. Leavitt and Associates and Keith and Associates.

Cost for the Corporation Yard, allowed in the current budget is a quarter of a million dollars. Also listed is an item for $30,000 for storm drain construction, Carbon Canyon Channel realignment with the City Yard.

Tax Expert Speaks Here

James Earle Christo, California state vice chairman of the United Organization of Taxpayers, Inc., will speak in Placentia Wednesday night September 22, as guest of the Placentia Golden Homeowners Association.

The meeting, open to the public, will be held at 8 p.m. in the El Dorado High School Lecture Hall.

Christo who was instrumental in the fight to eliminate city and school taxes from the property tax in the city of Bellflower is the present sponsor of the Jarvis 1% Tax Limit Initiative.

The speaker, a graduate of the University of Florida, has done graduate work at Notre Dame. He will address the homeowners association here on how the present tax originated; the background on Bellflower's "O" school and city tax; exempt property taxes and the Jarvis Tax Limit Initiative.

Cason Hearing Goes To Board

explained nor why in a police department reported in testimony to be "run by the book", Chief Traub was not notified of the event until, he testified, eight months later.

A second complicated incident related during the testimony involved two young Anaheim women who reportedly had come to the La Jolla section of Placentia in search of narcotics.

During their search, they became involved with "individuals". In ensuing events one of the women had allegedly been assaulted by one of the individuals she had accompanied. The call to the police station was made by the other woman, a 14-year-old girl, who was later taken into protective custody.

Lt. Pichon reported that Sgt. Cason had failed to note the alleged rape on the police log. "I sent out an officer immediately to take the rape report even though it was two blocks out of the city limits," Pichon noted.

Nothing was mentioned in the testimony about the two women's original search for narcotics and the results.

Other allegations against Cason included that he had permitted two Reserve Officers to occupy a police car, rather than a sworn officer and a reserve; that he made and received personal telephone calls at the station; that he had flunked a supervisor's school; had allowed an employee to take time off and told dirty jokes.

"Since we have given Sgt. Cason every opportunity to do his job in a professional manner," Lt. Pichon testified, "time and time again he makes mistakes and he'll always be in trouble. To retain him would be a detriment to the department. So I recommended termination."

Cason, however, was not terminated but was demoted following a six hour Skelly hearing conducted by the police department, it was reported. The actual charges against Cason resulted from three incidents involving two young officers, John Diamond and Steve Van Etten.

A demotion reportedly was based on the allegations that Cason had failed to pass on information from Van Etten involving skid marks, a contested traffic ticket for running a stop sign and an alleged false report that five persons were inside their car when they were outside. A third charge against Cason is for incompetency.

A marked contrast in summations at the hearing showed Traub emphasizing the breaking of the law and Swanson stressing individuals.

"Cason's dereliction of duty brought great embarrassment to the city as it became known that he had tolerated at least two direct violations of the law by a subordinate without investigating or reporting the incidents alleged," Traub read.

"The matters may never have come to light except for the dedication of a young police officer who couldn't sleep at night knowing that we had an officer on the department who acted as Diamond had acted," Traub continued.

"He (Van Etten) was revolted by what happened. He had the courage and sense of justice to report to higher authority on the third incident after having reported two previous incidents to Sgt. Caston. He had to take Cason into Lt. Pichon's office to report that Diamond had prepared false evidence."

Traub also contended that Cason has been "an inferior supervisor for a substantial period of time."

"He resented being rotated out of the detective bureau even though he knew at the time and still knows that every position in the department rotates in order to broaden every officer's experience."

Traub in conclusion of his 13-page summation asked the board to consider "whether you would want Eugene Cason as a supervisor in your own organizations..."

Swanson, speaking on behalf of Cason stated: "There is one common thread. The testimony of every person here was that Sgt. Cason was able to relate to his men. It is just as much a responsibility of the system to look at every person, to determine how they can fit, how they can serve the police department of the city," Swanson contended.

"I suggest that you look behind what happened when that was done and you see not a fair evaluation of Sgt. Cason in demoting him to patrolman but you see an aligning of a particular group of people to get rid of him."

"And I am not attempting to say that Gene Cason is anything but Gene Cason and will ever be anything but Gene Cason and I also maintain that Gene Cason as a sergeant, as a watch commander is competent and has a great deal that he can offer to the citizens of this city."

Bingo Still In Future In Placentia

The complexities of establishing guidelines for legalized Bingo games operated by charitable organizations in the city of Placentia, has brought about a delay in any such activities, the city council ordained Tuesday night.

Bingo was recently authorized by a public vote for charitable organizations and under certain set conditions.

Councilman Jack Gomez stated: "I'd rather that we take our time and figure out every possibility of doing

Fire Service Opens Communications Center

NEW COMMUNICATIONS CENTER for the Orange County Fire Department, servicing Placentia and Yorba Linda is manned here by Dispatcher Cliff Burbridge.

A sophisticated new communications system, which monitors calls for Placentia fire and paramedic services, was unveiled last week to the public in a Thursday Open House.

The Placentia number to call for either service is 528-2101.

A later innovation to be added to the system will be individual belts that local paramedics and special fire fighters can wear that will keep them in touch with dispatchers at the communications center when personnel are not in proximity to a telephone.

The center, with an $80,000 price tag, is the product of the California Division of Forestry and the Orange County Fire Department, which services Placentia and Yorba Linda. The Emergency Command Center is located at 180 Water Street in the city of Orange.

Ten years ago the department responded to just under 4,000 calls. This year to date the number has been increased to 11,200 incidents with projections of 17,000 total for the year.

"With the rapid growth of Orange County and the increased demands for fire and rescue services, it was necessary to upgrade the communications in order to better serve the public, Donald Holt (no relation to the Placentia Councilman) explained at the Open House.

The center is servicing 33 Orange County stations, including eight paramedic units. The radio consoles within the center have the capability of transmitting and receiving on 11 frequencies which provide direct communication with all city fire departments in the county, all police and law enforcement agencies and the adjoining counties of Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside and San Diego.

The Center also monitors an additional 20 frequencies, in its position as area coordinator for the California Office of Emergency Services, to be operational in case of emergency incidents.

The headquarters is staffed with one battalion chief, three captains, four radio dispatcher leadworkers, seven radio dispatchers and two map draftpersons, the center reports.

Letters To The Editor

Thanks To Firemen!

Copy To The Courier:
Chief Carl Downs
Orange County Fire Protection
Department
Orange

Dear Chief Downs:

I'd like to bring to your attention the professional and thorough job your men did on August 14, 1976, when my home at 532 Swanson Avenue, Placentia, caught fire.

Although we were not home at the time of the fire, friends and neighbors have unanimously agreed that the Placentia Fire Department and the other units which responded to the emergency did an outstanding job. Everything was done to secure our furniture from water and smoke damage; and when some of the ceilings did give way from water pressure, the firemen carefully moved everything in the damaged areas to the garage.

The care and interest taken by these men in limiting the damage is greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,
Daniel S. Stackhouse

Charges Against Diamond

stated there were none.

A second incident a week later on July 17 placed the two young officers at the corner of Tuffrey Boulevard and Bastanchury Road where Van Etten reportedly saw a motorist violate a stop sign but Diamond issued the ticket.

The final infraction on the next night, which Van Etten testified caused him to lose a night's sleep, was Diamond's statement that he would report persons involved in a search of a car carrying a loaded rifle were inside the car rather than outside.

The backlash of the charges caught Cason when it was alleged that he did not move fast enough in advancing Van Etten's reports of discrepancies to Pichon.

Lt. James Robertson, in charge of the Diamond investigation for the police department, said last week that the felony charges were dropped against Diamond when a representative from the district attorney's office brought information to court that Government Code

Section 6204, passed last January took precedence over the General Penal Code under which Diamond originally had been charged. This dropped the severity of the charges from felonies to misdemeanors.

Previous attempts to hold preliminary hearings in the Diamond case were thwarted when Officer Van Etten, with the Placentia Police Department only 11 months, was reportedly on vacation both times. The vacations were explained by Police Chief Norman Traub as accumulations of overtime.

The misdemeanor charges against Diamond, who is a seven year police veteran with another department, do not require a preliminary hearing, Robertson explained, but will be tried in North Orange County Municipal Court "in three or four weeks."

The local public hearing involving Cason completed testimony Thursday night with a decision anticipated Wednesday, September 22. Chairman of the Personnel Appeals Board Art Winney announced.

Homes by The Tracks

multiple residential. A cursory look at the property from the applicant suggests 25 lots on the land and the cul-de-sac of Alta Street, which is also scheduled to be deeded at the northern extremity.

Robert Sant speaking for the applicant outlined the possible use of the property in fourplexes with owners living in one unit and renting out the other three.

Sant of Orange outlined that the property is roughly 140 feet from the railroad and that a number of construction features will be used to cut down noise problems.

Commissioner William Begerly spoke against an industrial use on the property but Commissioner Sowinski stated "I have to disagree with that for two reasons. First, because of the noise and vibrations in the fourplex units, you are going to have a high frequency of transferring. People are not going to stay with this noise."

"And they are going to bring a bunch of kids. A railroad track is a curiosity for a kid."

Commissioner Richard Cuevas' opinion was that anytime you have a situation like this "the buyer should beware. If you don't like it, you don't buy it. I think it's a good change."

The second property involves over nine acres, also foreordained for fourplexes. The acreage lies south of Santa Fe Street and east of the 57 Freeway.

Staff members making the presentation to commissioners said they believe the county level of noise acceptability can be met with a fourplex development but plans were sent back to the developer for revision because they lacked clarity.

There are certain levels of acceptability to noise, assistant planner Barry Hogan outlined. "I probably wouldn't live there. I'm very sensitive to noise."

The commission voted to continue the item to the September 28 meeting. Applicant is the McCarthy Company of Anaheim. First plans outlined construction of 107 units contained in 24 buildings on 22 lots with a recreation area, including a swimming pool.

both informal and jovial. Majoy John Garthe of Santa Ana included a key to the city, which he figured eventually might come into the hands of St. Peter and an explanation for citizens 100 years hence as to how police and fire departments work. Also highlighted was Santa Ana's eye-catching Civic Center.

Young vivacious La Habra Mayor Robin Young, (27), certainly one of the most attractive of the mayors gathered, was a little uncertain as to what the La Habra capsule contained. It was her second time capsule burying party for that day. Nobody broke her record.

Handsome La Palma Mayor Henry Frese first recounted that his capsule held a giraffe (to show what people wore 100 years ago) but then retracted the statement in favor of a letter addressed to the Tricentennial and a picture of city council members.

The penny was the work of Orange County Supervisor Thomas Riley who also was on hand and explained that the one cent piece would probably be an item for conversation in 2076 when it is expected to be obsolete. Supervisor Riley got the largest reaction from the crowd assembled when he said his capsule included a solution to the Orange County Airport problems.

Brea included a history of the city the intermingling of confidential and nonconfidential information, thereby making it difficult or impossible for citizens to obtain what they seek to know. The proposal, however, does include a cost factor with regulations in the hands of nonelected individuals. This could allow the price of any research done predicated on the individual's whim.

In a previous advisement to the city council by City Attorney Charles and some valuable artifacts; Buena Park's Mayor Jesse Davis was elated over the fact that the ceremony was held in the Buena Park Room. He also threw his card in his capsule.

Garden Grove included a Bicentennial letter; Huntington Beach a key to the city; Newport Beach, an annual report and San Clemente minutes of the last city council meeting.

Stanton thought a budget and city history to be appropriate and Westminster included the city calendar, a history of the city and declared the whole idea of the capsules was "beautiful." Costa Mesa selected a knife, key to the city and a budget "to show the city's in the black."

What's contained in the Registry Hotel capsule, it was pointed out, is an expenditure of $10 million, 306 guest rooms, including four executive suites; 11,000 square feet of meeting space and four restaurants.

Having a somewhat larger capsule than the mayors, the hotel also includes a swimming pool, jacuzzi, tennis court, gift shop, stenography services, free parking and complimentary limousine service back and forth from the airport across the street.

No names were released as to who would be attending the ceremony in 100 years. Political aspirants, however, please note.

Church School

These residents used an easement on the east side of the church parking lot to reach their homes, built on a connecting roadway.

Mrs. Vonnies Ries, who lives in back of the church, pointed out the dangers in the parking lot. "Cars come in on that part of the parking lot all day long," she stated.

Raymond G. Bodini who lives next door to Mrs. Ries said he had been told by Warren Bradford that there would never be a school there "otherwise I would never have purchased that property."

R.E. Johnson expressed concern about the traffic and the absence of sidewalks on Madison Avenue.

One speaker who said he was the closest to the church of anybody said he had had trouble with children throwing rocks. "I'm just totally disgusted with the whole mess," he confirmed. "I'm bitterly against any preschool there." He also complained about the way the church is operated.

Applicant Karen Karste of Fullerton outlined for commissioners that the school would start with five children, between ages 2 and 7 and increase to 24.

Arnold Hamala, the city's director of planning insisted that "this is an ideal location for this sort of operation."

Lee Van Gorden, the commission's chairman, pointed out problems with the preschool conducted at the Valencia United Methodist Church, Placentia with its surrounding homeowners.

Mrs. Van Gorden quoting the city code pointed out that use permits are to be granted only if they do not interfere with the health, safety and comfort of citizens in the neighborhood.

"The other nursery school property started very small and somehow or other it got to be all day, extended hours and many times the number granted in the original use permit. I can only see this mushrooming into possibly the same type of situation and I'm not sure the need exists," she explained.

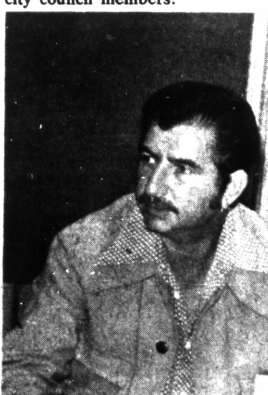

Dr. David Margolias, vice chairman of the commission stated that he believes there is "a tremendous credibility gap between government and the people. I think we would be remiss to go into this without knowing what was promised."

The class is scheduled to begin with an orientation meeting on Sept. 30, which will be held without dogs at Yorba Linda Junior High. All other meetings will be held with dogs at the Bank of America parking lot on Main Street across from City Hall. The class will meet each Thursday evening from 8 to 9 for 11 weeks (Thanksgiving excluded).

All novice obedience exercises will be covered in the course, including the heel, sit, down, stay and come commands. Also included will be off-leash work and help with correcting problems such as chewing, hole-digging and over-exuberance.

The fee for the complete course is $12.50 for children and $20.50 for adults. Registration will be on a first-come first-served basis and advance registration is recommended. For details, please contact the Yorba Linda Recreation Department, 524-5020. Late entry into the class is possible up to the third meeting if space is available.

POLICE REPORTS

Copies of reports from the Placentia Police Facility will be ten cents per page over the counter or a blanket fee of $2 for those requested to be mailed, the city council voted Tuesday night. The city attorney indicated that the arrangement will comply with state law.

JIM HANSEN and his brother Larry enjoy a special luncheon at the Century 21 office honoring Jim for his cross-country bicycle tour.

Bicentennial Bike Rider

Placentia's Jim Hansen, with the aid of sponsor Century 21, is home again after a summer to remember.

He joined over ninety area bikers in a bicentennial trek from Las Vegas to Washington D.C.

The group left Las Vegas July 4 and visited Hoover Dam, the Grand Canyon, the Rio Grande River, Arlington, Texas, where they took their only day off and visited Six Flags Over Texas.

At Dallas he was welcomed to the Century 21 office and given tee shirts and a jacket. The realtors came to meet him from the Washington D.C. office.

Riding his 28 pound bike, he covered 80 to 95 miles a day. The group was followed by a support unit of two buses, two vans, and a cook trailer. The riders were served breakfast, ate an early and a late lunch on the road, and were served dinner at the end of their eight to ten hour day. After two days of sightseeing in Washington D.C. the group went to Philadelphia before heading home.

Yoga Lecture

Yoga teacher Helene Kent will offer a free yoga demonstration at the Yorba Linda Library on Wednesday, September 22, at 1 p.m.

Take a minute after using the oven to wipe the inside with a sudsy sponge. Removes grease which would otherwise harden with reheating, makes oven cleaning much easier.

A sprinkle of salt on your dog or cat helps chase fleas away.

When a mattress pad shrinks after laundering, sew elastic tape about nine inches from each corner. Slip mattress through elastic, and pad will stay put.

Y Indian Programs Set Registrations

September 19 to 25 is National YMCA Indian week. Nationally over 1.5 million enroll in Y Indians each year.

Locally, in Yorba Linda alone, over 600 people participate in Y Indian Guides, Maidens, Princesses, Warriors and Kachinas. These programs involve father-son K-6th grade; mother-daughter K-6th; and father-daughter 1-4th grades.

Y Indian programs are home centered clubs (called tribes) organized by the YMCA, which are designed to multiply the meaningful things which parents and their children can do together. These include tribal meetings, campouts and special weekend activities.

The Indian theme is designed to stimulate the interest of the children as well as add a cultural dimension to the program.

Registration for the coming school year for Yorba Lindans are scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 25. The various programs, times and locations are as follows: Y Indian Guides (father-son K-3rd) will hold registration at the Esperanza High School theater at 10 a.m., Sept. 25. Y Indian Maidens (mother-daughter K-3rd) will hold registration at Nixon Park at 3 p.m., Sept. 25. Y Indian Princesses (father-daughter 1-4th) will register at Rose Drive School at 1 p.m., Sept. 25. Y Indian Warriors (father-son 4-6th) register by contacting Don Kurtz at 528-2942. Y Indian Kachinas (mother-daughter 4-6th) can register on Thursday, Sept. 23 at 7:30 p.m. at North Orange County YMCA, 2000 Youth Way, Fullerton.

Cost for all Y Indian programs is the cost of buying a YMCA membership ($11.00 per person).

Those interested in registering for any Y Indian programs but unable to attend registration should contact the Yorba Linda YMCA, 5035 Lakeview (just south of Yorba Linda Blvd.), 993-5111.

The Y is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Climbing Expert Here

A mountain climber from Ski and Sports sporting goods store will be speaking at the Placentia Library District on Saturday, Sept. 25 at 2 p.m. in the Meeting Room.

Climbing expert, Chuck Potter, participated in the filming of the movie "Solo" which portrays the efforts and exhilarations that are experienced by the solo mountain climber.

"A lone mountain climber sets out in the misty predawn to climb his mountain, up past thundering waterfalls, along thin crevasses, across glaciers and snow filed, clinging to a sheer rock face, feeling for a handhold on any overhanging rock, swinging joyfully from a rope above the world that most of us inhabit." Potter will tell of his adventures, and describe climbing techniques, preparations and precautions. The film, "Solo," will accompany Mr. Potter's appearance. Family groups and sports enthusiasts are cordially invited to attend.

Schools Borrow A Million

Trustees of the Placentia Unified School District will seek to borrow $1 million in funds to avert a crisis in the district's cash flow.

It is the first time borrowing to supplement funds until tax money is received has been obligatory on the board in several years.

Dr. John Mullender, assistant superintendent of schools, administrative services, explained briefly to trustees that the borrowing is essential because PUSD's higher property valuations this year has determined a difference in the sources of funding to the schools.

Monies, coming from the state are available at a different time because of the higher valuation, than those from county sources. Since more will be coming from the county with a later due date, it will be essential to borrow funds to meet interim obligations.

Dr. Mullender pointed out that the exchange will not cost the district money because of preferential rates of interest for borrowing in addition to bank interests received when the acquired funds are placed on deposit.

"In fact we expect to make money on it," Dr. Mullender confirmed.

SPORTS

Olympic Experiences

[Dan Billow and Scott Emblidge, correspondents for this newspaper for Troy High School, with a friend attended the Olympics in Montreal. Scott's report was recently published in a two part article. Dan has also submitted a report on his experiences. Those portions which duplicate Scott's have been deleted but the remainder gives a second insight into this experience. Editor].

By Dan Billow

On Thursday, July 15 Mike Solheim, Scott Emblidge and I left from a miserable little bus station in Anaheim for our long awaited trip to Montreal to see the Olympics.

Traveling by bus enabled us to see some fabulous sights and famous places. Some of the most notable things we saw were: the Mississippi River, Gateway Arch in St. Louis, New York City and all its sights, Toronto and the Canadian National Tower, Niagara Falls and Montreal and the Olympics.

Some of the not-so-great things we saw were: Albuquerque, New Mexico at 4 a.m., the bus station in Amarillo, the states of Arizona and New Mexico and Buffalo, New York.

Another not-so-great event was being "hit" - but not very hard - by a cheap con artist in Sacramento on the way back home. Here's what happened.

The bus had made a rest stop in Sacramento at night and Mike and I decided to have a look around. We were passed by a black in fancy clothes who suddenly turned and asked me how much my watch was worth.

"Uh, over $20, I guess," I said, immediately realizing that I should have said something closer to $5. "Hey, how'd you like to trade it for this camera?" he asked, taking a black box from a plastic bag.

"A camera?" I asked, feeling a little confused. "Yeah, check out this action, man," he said, turning a small knob which, in turn, moved another knob.

I acted impressed. Mike looked on. "Here, feel the weight." It felt like it was full of rocks. If that was a camera it was in need of a lens. "Well, I don't want to give up my watch and I already have a camera."

"All right, how about giving me a dollar, I need some gas. Here comes my friend," pointing to another black emerging from the shadows. "Now if you guys are cool we won't be too rough on you."

Mike held out 75 cents. "All right, my man," he said, turning to me, "it's your turn." I handed him the dollar and Mike and I went back to the safety of the bus station.

[Dan expressed pleasure at the good sportsmanship exhibited by the crowds at early events no matter what countries participated, as had Scott]. Olympic fever hit Montreal on the day of the Opening Ceremonies. Before that the people had been disillusioned by the delays, inefficiency and skyrocketing costs that had plagued the preparations for the Games.

But, thereafter, anything that had to do with the Olympics attracted crowds of people. To buy a ticket at Eaton's Department Store, one had to wait for well over four hours in a long line that snaked up and down the aisles on the fourth floor. The little souvenir shops which sold Olympic flags, shot glasses, ash trays, and even Olympic swim caps, were constantly crowded with masses of people. At that time, anything that bore the Olympic rings could be sold for a large profit.

The prices in Montreal, although much publicized as being outrageous, were bearable. Proof of this is the fact that Mike, Scott and I were each able to make the trip for under $400.

This was partly due to the fact that we were able to live with Scott's relatives while in Montreal, Toronto, Buffalo and Albany. Still, a great number of our lunches and dinners were bought in Montreal.

[Dan had praise, similar to Scott's, for the Metro or subway system and surface bus transportation. He also commented on several of the events as detailed in Scott's report].

There were also some bad things that happened in Montreal. Strangely, one was the performance of the great Nadia Comaneci. In collecting seven perfect scores, Nadia started the sport of gymnastics on its downfall.

There is nowhere for a gymnast to go now since the pinnacle of the sport has been reached. This was the fault of too generous scoring by Olympic judges. I believe that a fault can be found in any gymnastic performance.

What do you give the girl who performs as perfectly as Nadia did but who doesn't take the half-step on her dismount?

Something that amazed me was the size of the Russian and East German women. Why are they so much bigger than the female athletes of other nations which have larger populations?

All in all however, the Olympics were a huge success from a spectator's point of view. It made me wonder how the Moscow Olympics of 1980 could be any better. Maybe... just maybe... I'll be there to watch.

Hawks Lose A Fly By One

by Brian Hilderbrand

With 1:11 remaining in the game, quarterback Joe Lindholm unloaded a 30 yard touchdown pass to tie the game, and Norman Johnson added the PAT to lift Pacifica over El Dorado, 7-6, Friday night in pre-league action.

Johnson was also on the receiving end of the touchdown pass that enabled the Mariners to win in their 1976 debut, unveiling their "mystery defense".

"Their whole defense was entirely different than we had expected. Our offense had never prepared for a defense like that," commented Golden Hawk coach, Glen Hastings.

The Mariner defense was so baffling, ED quarterback Brian David was sacked nine times. Hastings blamed an inexperienced offensive line for this.

El Dorado saw a chance to pull ahead late in the second quarter as they got the ball down to the Mariners 10 yard line with first down. Fullback Jeff Hickok took the ball to the one yard line, and on the next play, David fumbled the ball at the two, but recovered it himself. On the last play of the first half, David was sacked back at the eight yard line.

The Golden Hawks got on the board first on the opening kickoff. Junior Sean Olsen took the kick at the five and ran it back 95 yards for a touchdown. Rick Hayes' kick failed, and the Hawks held a 6-0 lead.

El Dorado had another chance to score early in the second period. With first down at the three yard line, David was sacked twice, taking the ball back to the 19. On fourth and goal at the 15, David was once again dropped for a six yard loss, and the Mariners took over.

Pacifica capitalized on an El Dorado fumble on the 27 yard line with 2:25 to play for their score. Jim Elsea of the Mariners came up with the ball.

On the first two plays in the series, Pacifica lost four yards as the Hawk defense tightened up. Lindholm ran the next play for two yards, setting up a fourth and 12 situation.

Johnson ran down the left sideline, slipping his coverage, and was wide open when he caught the pass in the end zone. Johnson then put the PAT through to claim the victory.

"We made most of the mistakes in the first half," stated Hastings. "But we made the big one in the second half, and that hurt us."

Hastings labeled his defense as "very tough" and expects a good game this week in Katella, 14-13 losers to Villa Park.

Tigers Lose Heartbreaker

The Valencia Tigers drew closer to winning ways Friday night as they lost a heartbreaker in the last minutes of their opening game with El Toro.

The score of the contest, played at Mission Viejo High School was 7 to 6.

The Tigers making their best showing since entering a 24 game losing streak started back in 1973, held the field most of the way and were on the heavy end of a 6 to 0 score until the final quarter.

With 5 1/2 minutes left to play, El Toro's Hector Avella, breaking away from the Tiger tackles zoomed 88 yards for the Chargers leading to the touchdown.

PUSD Trustees Eye Precautions

Trustees of the Placentia Unified School District at their recent meeting made suggestions to reinforce the district's athletic safety measures, following the tragedy of a young football player reportedly being overcome by heat and dying at Troy High School.

Trustees explored the quality of physicals given in connection with PUSD athletics and whether or not school staff members know if students are on any medications.

Superintendent of Schools John Tynes said that officials know about medication only if it is taken at school and that efforts will be made to have parents report if their students are required to take medicines so that it can be incorporated into the records.

Mrs. Paul Pickering

Deborah Bolger Weds Paul Pickering

The Fall wedding of Deborah Diane Bolger and Paul Leroy Pickering took place Saturday at 10:30 a.m. before friends and guests of the families.

A reception followed at the Placentia home of the bride, before the couple left for a honeymoon to San Luis Obispo. They will later be at home in Brea.

Mrs. Pickering is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bolger, Placentia. The father of the bride is a Beautification Commissioner for the City of Placentia.

The bride is a graduate of El Dorado High School and Fullerton College. She is a recreational leader.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd D. Pickering of Brea, formerly of Placentia. He is employed by Disneyland and is a graduate of El Dorado High School and Fullerton College.

The ceremony took place at St. Joseph's Catholic Church with Father El-euterto Ramos officiating. One of the bride's attendants became faint during the 45 minute ceremony and was assisted by the bride's father to a seat in the front pews. A microphone used at the ceremony allowed guests and the audience to hear the young couple recite their wedding vows in a double ring ceremony.

The bride was attractively dressed in an eye-catching long bridal gown in white with lace down the front and fashioned with standing collar, long sleeves, a square yoke and fitted bodice. She carried a nosegay of white roses with pale blue baby's breath caught with long satin streamers.

Attendants were dressed in light blue including the matron of honor, Mrs. Bill Wunderlich of Placentia who wore a flowing dress with open collar and short flared sleeves. Bridesmaid was Miss Sandra Seaward of Placentia, dressed in a similar costume and carrying a nosegay of carnations.

David L. Pickering was best man for his brother and ushers were Jay Moulton, John Bolger and Steven Bolger, all of Placentia. The flower girl was Dawn Bolger and the receptionist Karen Bolger.

Approximately 150 guests attended the festive reception at the bride's home. Among guests was Councilman Donald Holt.

Women Plan Project Tour

Orange District, California Federation of Women's Clubs, announced that the district will sponsor a tour of Providence Speech and Hearing Center, 1304 Stewart Dr., Orange, at 8:45 a.m., Tuesday, Sept. 28.

Mrs. Ralph C. Fore, president of the general membership, and Mrs. Jeffrey Dougal, president of junior membership, announced that the clubs in the district would jointly sponsor the center as their major philanthropic project for 1976-77.

The 34 clubs in the district donated approximately $5,000 to the project during the past year, collecting goods for the Providence Speech and Hearing Thrift Shop in Santa Ana. District members have served hundreds of volunteer hours in both the center and the thrift shop.

Providence Speech and Hearing Center, a public agency serving Orange and surrounding counties, offers a number of programs for children and adults with communication disorders which result from such causes as birth defects, hearing loss, head injuries or strokes.

Mrs. James McCalla, district health services chairman, Tustin Area Woman's Club, is in charge of the tour.

Another tour is planned by Mrs. Ross Reed, international affairs chairman and member of the LaHabra Woman's Club, to Project Concern, Tijuana, Mexico, Wednesday, Sept. 29.

Project Concern provides much needed health care, dental services, nutrition training and public health education. Clubs in the district have donated canned food, sheets, towels and money to be taken on the tour day.

Orange District's 4,704 members also lend support to many other philanthropic, educational and civic causes.

Women Set Musicales

The Yorba Linda Woman's Club will begin the new club year with a luncheon and musical program on Tuesday, Sept. 28, 12 p.m., at the clubhouse.

Hostesses for the event will be Mrs. Donald Alfords and Mrs. Earl Kocher. Mrs. Leo J. Brough, club president, will preside at the business meeting.

Prospective members be welcomed by Mrs. Donald Rogers, membership chairman.

Special guest for the event will be Mrs. Clemens Fromlath, immediate past president of Orange District, CFWC, who is currently serving as Orange District's membership chairman.

Prospective members may contact Mrs. Rogers at 524-3349 for more information.

Martinet Art on Display

Mercedes Martinet, member of the Placentia Art Association, is the Placentia Junior Round Table's "Feature Artist" whose work is now on display at Placentia Library, 411 East Chapman, Placentia.

Mercedes' interest is in nature and her work will be on display through October. She also likes cowboy and desert objects.

Her western taste is characteristic of her native area of Cumpas Sonora, Mexico where she received some of her early training. Her background also includes Adult Education Classes with Thelma Smith, but really she has been a "self taught" artist. Her work has been on display at Century Savings, Placentia-Linda Hospital, and Yorba Linda Public Library.

Mrs. Martinet is the mother of four children and has been a resident of Placentia for seven years. She is also a member of the Orange Art Association. Anyone interested in the "Feature Artist" program may contact Mary Lee, 524-1878, for further information.

Kraemer Schedules Bake Sale

Kraemer Junior High School will hold its Back to School Night Tuesday, Sept. 28.

The PTA is sponsoring a Bake Sale that night. Anyone interested in donating baked goods please contact Mrs. Gretchen Reiter at 524-0016, the group advises.

"Peggy's Pointers"

When planning for an out-of-town guest, it's important to think of where to put them. Ideally, it's great to have a spacious guest room with comfortable beds, dresser, closet and private bath, but I seriously doubt that there would be many people who have this utopian arrangement for visitors. Most of us move a couple of children into another bedroom and give the guest a foot or so of overused closet space, and threaten the kids with bodily harm if they fail to rinse the big green weed of Crest down the drain when they are through with the bathroom.

There are ways to solve this problem. First - do you have a room you now use for an office or sewing room, or both? This is the place to make room for guests. Most tract homes have a closet with sliding doors which can be removed, and your desk or sewing center can go into this opening. This gives you an entire room to put in either a trundle bed or sleep sofa, and you have a room with many uses. You can still make adequate space at one end of the closet to hang a few clothes.

The Snack Shack at Bradford Stadium, Placentia, will be sponsored by the Placentia Chamber of Commerce in the final competition of Almost Anything Goes Bicentennial Olympics.

The final event of the week long Olympics competition will be held at 2 p.m., Saturday, October 9. Approximately 45 chamber members will man the booth immediately following the 12th annual Placentia Heritage Days Festival parade, scheduled for 11 a.m. October 9.

A large variety of food will be offered, the organization reports.

NEW MEMBERS

New members of the Placentia Senior Citizens Club joining last month include Ardeth Hanson, August and Mildred Dill, Ann Marie Makuh, Clara Spencer, Lillian Warren and Mr. and Mrs. Lionel and Erma Magana.

have included: Bruce Burns, Fullerton, wood for the carvings; Brea Parks and Recreation Department, cement work and installation of supporting structures; Dickenson Lumber, La Habra, varnish and sand paper; Don Engelhorn, La Habra, steel supporting rods; and Simpson Strong-Tie, Brea, for all metal supporting brackets.

Wooden Monument Dedicated

In a tribute to our western heritage of stagecoaches and their drivers, Camp Fire Girls of North Orange County dedicated a carved wooden monument in a "Salute to the Stagecoach" last week at Arovista Park, Brea.

Ribbon-cutting duties was shared by Brea mayor, Carroll Weddel and Theresa Mirko, Placentia, Camp Fire's top salesgirl for Orange County for the past four years.

Also helping with the dedications ceremonies was Samantha Peterson, Brea, Candi Peterson, Brea; Valerie Olsen, Anaheim and Traci McGuigan, Anaheim. These four North Orange County girls placed in the top six Orange County sales for 1976.

The monument was hand-carved by Tom Yeager, a La Habra Camp Fire father and set in place at Arovista Park on Imperial Blvd. on land donated by the city of Brea.

The stagecoach monument is the realization of a Bi-centennial project, "We the People", which started a year ago. One of five sections, "Heritage", has involved girls and leaders from Anaheim, Brea, Buena Park, Fullerton, La Habra, Placentia and Yorba Linda. In order to participate, each person had to send in a researched suggestion for an historical site in North Orange County, plus a donation of 50 cents.

The site selected was the stagecoach routes through Brea which was submitted by the Sunshine Blue Birds of Brea under the leadership of Andrea Lockley.

A scroll bearing 351 names of participating girls and leaders was presented to the City of Brea last March during Camp Fire Birthday Celebration at La Habra Fashion Square.

Activities for the day began with games and races for Camp Fire girls and guests, followed by a family picnic. After the dedication, a baseball game for ladies and gents found the children cheering their parents. Dress was western wear. Dedication patches are available for 25 cents.

Project chairman for the year-long activity has been Kathy Morrow, Brea. Heritage Chairman is Kathy Lane of Yorba Linda. Other committee chairmen are Andrea Lockley, Brea, secretary; Becky Mirko, Placentia, publicity; Lynn Sailors, La Habra, booths; and Mamie Yeager, La Habra, entertainment.

Ceremonial ribbons for the monument were arranged by Nancy Pelley and Anna Davidson, Camp Fire leaders from Brea.

From formations covering the entire football field, the bands will play tunes such as the theme from "Star Trek," the rock hits "Taking It To The Streets," and "Philadel-

Crow Tourney

Wednesday, Sept. 22, has been set as the sign-up deadline for the big upcoming Bob Crow Invitational Golf Tournament at the Brea Golf Course Friday through Sunday, Oct. 1 to 3.

This is the eighth straight year friends and students of Crow are running the tournament to pay tribute to the golf professional of the Big Tee Golf Center, Buena Park.

Over the years Crow has introduced golf to thousands. A former three-time winner in this tournament, Debbie Meisterlin, now plays in the Ladies' Professional Golf Association tour.

Each year the event attracts some 200 Crow followers, who compete for gross, net and calloway flight trophies for both men and women.

Competitors can play the 58-par Brea course any time during the three days, and prizes will be awarded at a dinner-dance Sunday, Oct. 3, at the LaMirada Country Club. A 6 p.m. social hour will precede the 7 p.m. dinner. Warren Ferguson, U.S. District Judge, will be master of ceremonies.

Reservation forms for golf and/or the dinner may be obtained at the Brea course, Big Tee, the LaMirada course or the Fullerton Golf Course. The green fees are $6 and the dinner cost is $7.

Call Ned Hawkins, pro at the Brea course, for additional information, reservations and starting times at (714) 529-3003.

DEADLY JAYWALKING

There were approximately 8,600 pedestrian deaths in the nation in 1975, a 1% decrease from the previous year. Nearly 40% of the pedestrian deaths and injuries were due to jaywalking—accidents occurring outside a crosswalk or intersection.

Nestande Talks on The Record

"What higher crime is there, as far as I'm concerned, than a dishonest politician," Assemblyman Bruce Nestande told luncheon guests last week at the Placentia Chamber of Commerce meeting, held at the Alta Vista Country Club.

Nestande, who is running for re-election on the Republican ticket is the incumbent in the state assembly for the 70th district which encompasses Placentia and Yorba Linda.

Hitting on several prime topics in his talk, Nestande also listed education as the top priority for the state government.

"If I were in federal Congress I wouldn't feel that way," the Assemblyman explained. "There are issues that are different in our federal system. You have the responsibility for national defense and other problems."

Nestande also had a good word for the state's Democratic governor, Jerry Brown. "The governor is making people prove the worthiness of what they want before he is going to increase spending. And I think it is about time that happens."

"Government in too long a time has not sat back and reviewed what is going on and what has gone on in the past to see if that is worthy of being considered for continuation or not. We keep on adding. We never sit back and ask the hard question of whether or not that is working. Is that agency fulfilling the responsibility it was created to perform."

"Is it now obsolete? How should it be updated? These questions aren't asked. I'm telling you. It's wrong I think. These questions have to be asked."

"Why did New York City go broke? They passed legislation, passed laws, passed this, passed that but they weren't thinking ten years down the road as to who's going to pay those bills then. Isn't that an obligation?" Nestande asked.

"I commend the governor on his hard nosed attitude toward the finances of the state."

Continuing on the subject of finances, Nestande added: "You say fine. Let's stick the corporations. But the corporation doesn't have a bottomless well anymore than you and I have. Therefore their costs have got to go into the cost of the product."

"We must recognize that there is only so much money that you can allot to government. We can destroy the system if we get to the point where government is simply taking too much out of it."

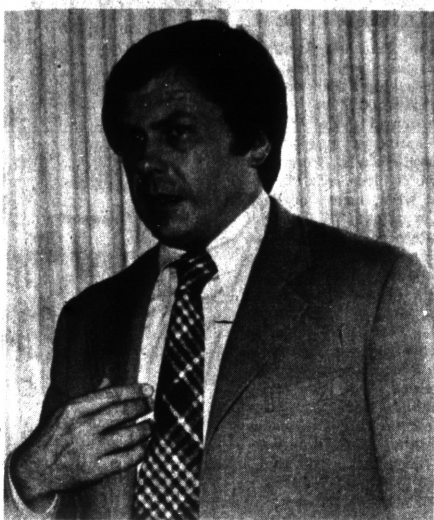

Discussing the pitfalls of appointed commissions who have been handed authority, Nestande stated strongly: "I don't believe in that type of government. I believe in representative government and not arbitrary power going to appointed commissioners."

"You can't hold that group then accountable. Who then do you go to when they aren't making the decisions you feel they ought to be making? How can the community react the way you can react when elected officials are making decisions? They can put them out of office. They have recalls. When commissioners are there you cannot get a handle on them."

"That's our power over our government. I want the power entrusted to elected officials."

The assemblyman also recounted his experience on the state's ways and means committee: "You cannot believe people coming to you and laying on you the burden that unless you finance their program, the world is absolutely going to come to a halt. Everybody has a meritorious program."

Nestande also discussed mandatory prison sentences for certain serious crimes. These would include a felony committed with a gun and penalties for heroin pushers.

In connection with this, the assemblyman also advocates determinate sentencing. When a certain crime is committed there will be a known penalty for it. "It's a very mathematical thing," he explained. A second crime would have an additional penalty. He reported that the concept is "supported overwhelmingly by law enforcement."

Nestande asked emphatically for input from his constituents. "Unless I have the input it's a lot harder to do the job properly. Take the time as a citizen in a free society, and give that input to those people representing you," Nestande urged.

The assemblyman also will be appearing on a special "Voter's Pipeline" television show to be presented on KOCE-TV, Channel 50 at 7 p.m. Friday, September 24.
